CELEBRATION OF GOLF AT THE SOUTHERN NEW ENGLAND GOLF EXPO

Golf enthusiasts have the opportunity to get a jump start on the 2009 golf season while there is still snow on the greens.

Providence, RI – The Southern New England Golf Expo is coming to the RI Convention Center on February 14 and 15. Presented by Amica Insurance, the Expo will benefit the Boys and Girls Clubs of Providence.

The Golf Expo offers something for everyone: including an eight bay driving range; demonstration of the latest golf equipment and technology by Callaway, Titleist, Nike Golf and Taylor Made; a Monster mini-golf course for family entertainment; more than 50 exhibits, displays and interactive technology; the Amica Chipping Challenge; a Brad Faxon putting surface; demonstrations and instruction by many of New England's top professional golfers, and a RI-PGA golf store.

“Amica Insurance is looking forward to presenting the first Golf Expo in recent memory in Rhode Island,” said Vince Burks, senior assistant vice president at Amica, “Amica is very happy to partner with a great organization like the Boys & Girls Clubs, and to provide golfers with a glimpse of what they have to look forward to once the snow thaws and spring arrives.”
